EYES OF DECEPTION

SURREALISM

The piece portrays a hallucinating politician who steals and drains the people's money. It reflects their failed projects such as flood control systems and highways. The color yellow in my work symbolizes small projects with small budgets, but these greedy politicians see them as opportunities to steal by tripling the actual costs. The large amount they steal is represented by the overwhelming presence of yellow.

On the right side, you can see workers climbing ladders. Each ladder represents the different levels of minimum wages in the provinces, Batangas, and Manila. These workers symbolize the Filipino labor force striving to improve their lives. However, even before they can climb higher, their hard work is already being drained as shown by the 50 pesos being sucked away, symbolizing how taxes and corruption take from their wages, money that ultimately ends up in the pockets of corrupt politicians.

The artwork is dominated by the color black because I believe only black can truly represent the darkness of what these people are doing to our country and to us, the Filipino people.
